Berlin, May 14.-Germany will follow the advice of Great Britain and make new reparations offers to AND 100 ARE INJURED

Chancellor Cuno and his cabinet ministers, who conferred on Britain's answer to the thirty billion gold marks reparations offer, are inclined to be displeased with the tone of the note, which is regarded in governmental circles as an "unwarranted rebuke" to Germany.

Despite this, the Berlin government apparently realizes the soundness of the advice of Britain and has ordered experts to start the draft of a new reparation offer. It is anas the government is placed in the a death toll believed to exceed 20 the slightest intimation as to how embarrassing position of having to with nearly 100 injured. increase her offer despite the fact ing that thirty billion marks is the limit of Germany's capacity to pay. and three were received at Loraine,

Cuno, it is understood, is keenly disappointed at the reception of the suggestion that an international commission of experts be appointed to examine into Germany's ability to ing trees from the ground, tearing

The government was confident that this idea, which was first suggested in the New Haven speech of Secretary of State Hughes, would be warmly received. The British note ignored that portin of the German communication altogether. It is generally believed that the British government did not refer to the international commission proposition because it is known that France is opposed to the idea and Britain has no desire to antagonize her ally.

Members of the government declare Members of the government declare the commission would easily provide available. GOVERNMENT TO FIGHT TRIALS OF OFFICERS

Greenville, S. C., May 14.—The United States will oppose the trial of four federal prohibition enforcement officers in the state courts on a charge of assault and battery, the charge growing out of the incident of April 7 when the officers fired on a car containing two young women on the Buncombe road near this city it was learned from authoritative sources late today.

It is understood that the United States district attorney will argue a motion before Judge T. J. Mauldin in the court of general sessions tomorrow, seeking to have the case transferred to the federal court jurisdiction, in the event that the grand jury returns indictments against the four officers.

NEGRO IS CHARGED WITH WIFE'S DEATH

Gray, Ga., May 14.—A warrant charging murder, in connection with the death of his wife, Leah, was issued today for Andrew Miller, 30, negro, son of Bibb Miller, a big land owner. The warrant was obtained by Stanley Hill, a brother of the dead woman.

Suspicion was directed toward Miller because of his efforts to bury the body of his wife without obtaining a burial permit.

A negro frolic took place last Thursday night which Miller claims he attended. Upon his return home he says that he found his wife dead with a pistol in her hand. Officers investigated and found that the woman's head had been crushed in. No bullet marks were found.

relations with a view to establishing a general understanding.

The main theme of the note, says the article, is that the Russians have equal grounds of complaint. Russia has always wished, and Great Britain has always whished, and Great Britain always has declined to discuss the relations between the two countries. The note contends, says the Herald, that many of Lord Curzon'r charges are based on documents supplied by secret service agents, which are always doubtful of authenticity. Russia has many such which she could cite against Great Britain.

Dealing separately with the British charges, the Moscow government says they are either fabrications or falsifications. It declared its willingness to abide by the decision of the proposed conference with regard to the three-mile limit, the article asserts, and adds that as an evidence of good will Russia has released all British trawlers.

There are not enough Elgins to meet People's Desire for Better Watches

PROBABLY you have seen the affectionate respect for the Elgin Watch among railroad men. Railroad people are very conscious of professional timekeeping quality.

A railroad watch is a special type for a particular service.

What you may not realize is that the extreme precision of these watches is the expression of the Elgin professional point of view.

This applies as well to all Elgins, thin model pocket watches for men and wrist watches for women.

A fine Elgin has always been held in high regard-even when both cheap watches and dressed up costly watches tended for a time to throw precise timekeeping into the background.

There never was a keener appreciation of Elgin professional timekeep-ing standards than there is today.

There are not enough Elginsand have not been enough for two years or more.

Whether there ever will be enough looks doubtful-the way the demand for better timepieces throws the emphasis on Elgin.

Fewer substantial Americans nowadays are inclined to import their time.

Little Appeals to Citizens to Provide Rooms for Convention Visitors.

That the coming Elks' convention during the week beginning July 8, will draw more than twice as many visitors to Atlanta than any convenion heretofore held in Atlanta, is the tion heretofore held in Atlanta, is the confident prediction of officials of Atlanta lodge, No. 78.

How to house this immense gathering of about 75,000 visiting Elks and their families is a problem upon which the hotel and housing committee, of which S. C. Little, of Atlanta lodge, is chairman, is now concentrating its attention.

attention.

Mr. Little states that practically every hotel in Atlanta had been contracted for during the convention. and in addition it has been planned to establish "Pullman cities," throughout Atlanta, with all modern conveniences, ixcluding police and fire protection.
"This, however," said Mr. Little,"
"will hardly accommodate half the number of guests we expect to attend the convention. The committee real-izes that fact, and we are now making an appeal to our fellow citizens to communicate with us at once with a view to engaging rooms in private view to engaging rooms in private homes."

Through an advertisement published in today's Constitution, Mr. Little hopes to solve the serious problem of housing the largest gathering of visitors ever assembled in Atlanta.

"The reputation for hospitality," said Mr. Little, "which the south enjoys throughout the entire United States must be maintained, and I feel confident that our public-spirited citizens will do all in their power to assist in entertaining many of the best and most prominent citizens who will attend the convention.

Delegations from Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Buffalo, New England, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Michigan, have already been assigned to the Georgian Terrace, Piedmont, Cecil, Winecoff, Imperial, Hampton and Oliver hotels and the Kimball house, while arrangements for other delegations from all over the United States are rapidly being completed.

Federation of Women's clubs, has received a letter from Beniamino Gigli, famous tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company, in which he says that he was very much impressed by the singing of Byron Warner, while he was in Atlanta.

Mr. Warner, who is nationally famous as the leader of "Warner's Seven Aces," The Constitution orchestra, whose concerts have long been a regular feature from station WGM, is the possessor of an exceptionally good tenor voice and he had the pleasure of singing for Gigli while the latter was in Atlanta recently for the grand opera week.

In his letter, Gigli says of Mr. Warner's voice, "I sincerely believe that his voice, with good training, will develop into something worth while." He concludes his letter by giving the address of his own teacher, whom he recommended as the best possible instructor for Mr. Warner.

His letter in full is as follows:
"My Dear Mrs. Smith:

Recorder Johnson Reprimands Ex-Wife.

Charges of disorderly conduct against Stewart Maiden, golf instructor at East Lake Country club, and Mrs. B. May, of 45 Currier street, instigated at the instance of Maiden's divorced wife, were dismissed by Recorder Johnson Monday at the afternon session of recorder's court.

Recorder Johnson completely exonerated Maiden and Mrs. May, and reprimanded Mrs. Maiden, for prying into the business of her hushand, after she had secured a complete divorce from him. Maiden told the recorder that Mrs. May was a friend of his, and he was merely paying a friendly call, when his wife came into the apartment, and created a scene.

Maiden and Mrs. May were arrested by Call Officer's Stigall and Murphy, following as conference between Mrs. Maiden and Assistant Chief of Police E. L. Jeyl It is said that in the conference the question of divorce was not by gatt out.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Shanghai, May 15.—(By The Associated Press.)—J. A. Henly, of San Francisco, one of the prisoners captured by the Suchow bandits, who arrived at Lincheng two days ago from the brigands' stronghold, was not granted an unconditional release by his captors, but had obtained 24 hours' "leave of absence" from the robber chief, from whom the American also borrowed $20 and a mule to make his trip down from the hills, according to reports brought here to-day.

Henly, according to Marcel Josset, of the British-American Tobacco company staff, who arrived on the midnight express from Tsaochwang, became popular with the bandit and was permitted to pass the lines to visit the relief camps in the footbills.

The San Franciscan came down from the brigands' lair Saturday clad in a pair of pajamas, carrying $20 lee had borrowed from the robber chief, riding a donkey he had obtained from the same source and under instructions from the brigands to return by Sunday night or the rehoonder of the captives would be shot.

Judges ascribe the increasing number of marriage dissolutions to changing economic conditions. Statistics show divorces have doubled in the last eight years, while marriages have increased one-eight. Some of the reasons for divorce advanced by the judges are:

Entrance of women into the field of commerce, industry and business.

Population Increases.

Columbus, Ga., May 14.—There are 8.552 children of school age in Columbus, according to the report of the school census figures here. An increase in the school population of the city of 2,931 is shown since 1918.

Special investigators are working on whipping cases and Walton has asked the attorney-general to make every effort possible to obtain conviction of those guilty in participating the children and 2,537 negro children as compared with 3.845 white children and 1.767 negro children in 1918.

More detail about your everyday use of rubber goods, and the three new basic developments announced by the United States Rubber Company

EVERY article of rubber manufacture starts with crude rubber. Hence the importance to everybody of getting this crude rubber pure and uniform from the very beginning.

About five years ago the rubber technicians of our Company set out to produce crude rubber purer and more uniform than any that had been known before.

Fortunately, they could start at the very source -the rubber trees on this Company's own plantations in the Far East. *(See Note.)

They evolved Sprayed Rubber—the product of a wholly new rubber technique. Sprayed Rubber—The First

Uniformly Pure Rubber

Sprayed Rubber is the new scientific method of producing crude rubber from Rubber Latex, the milky liquid from a rubber tree. Sprayed Rubber insures, for the first time since rubber was discovered, a pure and absolutely uniform product. Heretofore all rubber has been coagulated by means of smoke or chemicals.

Rubber produced by heat and astringent smoke is contaminated with combustion products. Nor can there be any assurance of uniform quality. When rubber is produced by treating latex with acetic acid it contains acid residues. Furthermore, the acid tends to destroy some of the valuable natural properties of the latex. The new spraying process takes the latexsprays it into a snow-white mist-and brings it into contact with pure super-heated air, driving out the water of the latex-and nothing else.

One Hundred Percent Pure Rubber At Last

Sprayed Rubber, as it comes out of the spraying chamber, is a mass of clinging snow-white flakes -100% the pure solids from the virgin latex.

Sprayed Rubber has greater strength-because it contains all the natural strength of the original latex unimpaired by chemicals or the destructive effect of machine working,

The New Web Cord

Between cotton cords and pure rubber latex there exists a natural affinity of the greatest importance to the cord tire manufacturer and the user of cord tires.

This is the basis of the second discovery—the new Web Cord.

Web Cord as you find it in a "U. S." Royal Cord Tire is prepared as follows: -

The tire cords are immersed in the latex. No chemical solutions of rubber are used.

The latex penetrates into, around and through These impregnated cotton cords laid side by side form a rubber-webbed sheet-without cross tie-threads, as all other cord fabric has, and free from all other resistants to flexure. It is believed that tires made of Web Cord are the most homogeneous tires yet manufactured, and as a result the strongest, most elastic and longest wearing. Thousands of them are already in service.

The New Flat-Band Method of Building a Cord Tire

Royal Cord Tires today are built flat on a drum. Then when the tire is built complete—Web Cord plies and Sprayed Rubber tread—it is gently formed to tire shape by slight internal pressure, without any harsh treatment of the cords. And it is then vulcanized under pressure of a gas in contact with its inner surface, thus ensuring absolute uniformity of compaction in the tire walls.

During the forming process, each cord takes its normal position in the carcass, to sustain its full share of work.

A tire built in this way is positively balanced in structure and strength. Each cord lying at precisely the same angle-is of precisely the same length.

In reply Morris is said to have taken off his glasses, when J. J. Barnes stepped between them. Commissioner Cooper catching Beavers and pushing him toward his office.

Malcom, according to Chief Beavers, was one of his most important witnesses in the trial of Morris, and mysteriously absented himself. Malcom was said to have been in the court room several minutes before the case was placed on trial, but couldn't be found when called to testify.

Recorder Johnson issued orders that Officer Malcom be brought before him for contempt. This will be done Tuesday, Chief Beavers stated.

Witnesses at Trial.

At the trial, Superintendent Tom Lanford, of the city stockade: E. L. Mayson, who lives on DeKalk avenue, and W. T. Friends of Morris charge that he is being persecuted by Chief Beavers because the two differ politically.

On the other hand, Chief Beavers states that charges upon which the Miss Ada Woolfolk, secretary of the Associated Charities: "Atlanta certainly needs more parks, especially this Central park. It means fresh air and trees and grass to hundreds of poor families, and that means health and strength and renewed courage for many who have lost all these things. Atlanta has made no provision for sending sickly children and their mothers out into the country to regain their health, so we are dependent upon our parks. But Piedmont park and Grant park are so far away from many of our most needy families who cannot even afford car fare. By all means, let us provide this Central park for Atlanta's poor people who need it so badly."

Dr. Ashby Jones, pastor of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church: "Creation of the Central park will transform a sore spot of the city into a source of health and beauty. Everywhere over the nation progressive cities have learned that parks are civic necessities. Their effect is always upilifting on those who otherwise would be cut off from enjoyment of the outdoors, and consequently they have an elevating influence on a city's morality Miss Ada Woolfolk, secretary of the

Our Suggestions for a More Satisfactory Trip

Letters of Credit-Travelers' Cheques Safe Deposit Facilities

You will want to know that wherever you find yourself, you will have a dependable source of the money of the country in which you happen to be, either for everyday use, or for extraordinary or unforeseen requirements.

The Fourth National's exchange department offers you Letters of Credit, which not only are convertible into any foreign currency desired at the rate of exchange prevailing that day, but which secure for you the courtesies of banks of consequence in the countries overseas.

For your further convenience, Travelers' Cheques are issued, in denominations of $10, $20, $50 and $100. They will be of especial advantage when you wish to convert comparatively small amounts. Take Letters of Credit for larger requirements, and for use in places where you will spend some time; and Travelers' Cheques to be cashed in places you pass through or visit only casually.

This plan especially commends itself now, not only on account of its convenience and safety, but because it enables you to guard against over-supplying yourself with foreign currency, which may depreciate materially in your hands, due to the rapid and irregular fluctuations in exchange rates.

You do not want to be worried while you are away about the safety of securities, valuables, heirlooms and so on, which you will leave at home.

You can not only put these in our Safe Deposit vault for a nominal sum-our Trust Department will be pleased to look after your securities, collect income or principal when due, and endeavor to keep you advised of anything affecting your interests which may happen in your abscence.

We invite you to discuss these suggestions fully with us without obligation on your part

'Old Reliable' Christens Baby Via Radiophone

Two-Months-Old Baby Boy Given Name by Station WGM.

"William Grady Moseley," whose initials constitute the call letters of Station WGM, the radio broadcasting station of The Atlanta Constitution, was the name given to the two-month-old baby boy of Mrs. George F. Niles, 131 Niles avenue, last night. The parents requested this station to christen their baby boy several days ago, and during the 9:30 to 10:30 broadcast Monday night the youngster was given the name mentioned above.

The christening of the young boy was made from the studio of Station WGM, in The Constitution building, as the parents and friends and young "W-G-M" were listening in at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Pollock on Niles avenue. The name was accepted and the thanks of the parents of the baby were 'phoned to the announcer. Mrs. Pollock stated that the boy was so "well pleased with his name that he put on his best smile."

To ABOUSH LASH

The senate vote came on the question of concurring in a house amendment to a bill introduced by Senator Turnbull last week. This bill would expressly direct the state officials to ban the whip for two years. The house struck out the experimental clause and made an outright abandonment of the whip. Analyzed to the bitter end, therefore, Mr. Rowe's action had the effect of a little more tempering the sweetness of the victory coup. The issue for that matter had already resolved itself into a question of just how the whip would be banned rather than whether it would be banned.

The victory of the abolitionists might be short-lived though that was not apparent, but the assurance is manifest that the least that will come from the senate will be an inhibition against the whip for two years at the Tallahassee, Fla., May 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—Walter Hig-Ine Associated Press.)—Walter Higginbotham, convict whipping boss, and William Fisher, superintendent of the Putnam Lumber company, are expected to arrive here late tomorrow in the custody of a United States deputy marshal following federal indictment being returned against them and J. R. Jones, former sheriff of Leon county. Jones was arrested today and was released on bail of $4,000.

Higginbotham and Fisher will be served with warrants at Cross City tomorrow morning. During the morning, after his arrival from Florida, where he now resides, Mr. Bryan received newspaper here last week on vagrancy charges, men and talked freely concerning affairs of national interest. No man fairs of national interest. No man with leanings can be a nominee for president from either of the big political parties, he said. President Harding seems to him to be the probable republican nominee for president next year. He declined to suggest a prob-

Joining other nations for world peace. He warmly endorsed the movement for the league of nations.

In launching into his lecture on "Science versus Evolution." at the Tabernacle Monday night, Mr. Bryan mentioned the fact that the Florida state senate had passed during the morning the resolution previously passed by the house forbidding state supported schools, "to teach, or permit to be taught, atheism, agnosticism, or to teach 'as true' Darwinism or any other hypothesis that links man in blood relationship to any other form tion and life.

Guest of Mr. and Mrs. Witham.

While in Atlanta Mr. Bryan is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Witham, on Peachtree road. He was entertained there at dinner with a few other friends Monday evening before his lecture at the Tabernacle.

Dealing with Darwinism and other theories of evolution, Mr. Bryan declared that although evolutionists have definitely discarded Darwin's theory of "sexual selection" and have admitted their inability to prove the companion theory of "natural selection" they still cling, without proof, to the conclusions Darwin reached.

"Science does not support evolution." he declared. "Some scientists defend it, but 'scientists' are not 'science' any more than ministers are the ministry or public officials are the government. We must understand the difference between institutions and individuals."

"Religion has no quarrel with science, and can not have, because real science is classified knowledge. Nothing, therefore, can be scientific that is not true. All truth is of God whether found in the book of nature or in the Book of Books: but guesses are not science; hypotheses are not truths.

"The hypothesis has its place whether it requires four syllables to expressit or is expressed in the word 'guess." B is nothing more than a hypothesis until it is proven true." Not in Chemistry. Mr. Bryan declared that chemistry has not discovered any law of evolution.

The speaker said that theistic theory of evolution, "that evolution is God's method of doing things" is more dangerous than the atheists' theory that it is a method without any God back of it.

"The atheist alone can do little harm because the evidence of the exharm because the evidence of the existence of a God is sufficient to convince all except mind-worshippers, but theistic evolution lulls to sleep; it may be defined as an anesthetic with and still believe in evolution; you can't do both for long. Darwin was a religious man in his youth but following his hypothesis of the origin of man it made him an agnostic. It may be defined as an anesthetic which deadens the patient's pain while atheism removes his religion," he said. "Evolution substitutes it for God. Whenever a Christian comes upon anything which seems impossible of explanation. he says 'God did it.' Confronted with the same situation, the evolutionist says 'It is inexplicable; evolution explains it, but the changes can be traced or proven because of the time required.' The Christian puts his trust in the infinite power of God; the evolutionist relies on infinite. God; the evolutionist relies on infinite time," he continued.

Gives Four Reasons.

Mr. Bryan suggested four reasons why learned men accept the evolutionary hypothesis without proof and, he said, in spite of proof.

First, he asserted, the so-called cultured crowd regard religion as a superstition, good enough for the perstition, good enough for the ignorant, but think one outgrows the

In preparing salads and desserts you want an orange that's tender, firm, and practically seedless.

Red Ball are such oranges.

They slice easily, as thin as you desire. And one may cut these slices, or segments easily with a fork. No loss of juice. No effort.

Hence they're ideal for luscious "5minute"salads and desserts, for light lunches on busy days or for unexpected guests.

CALIFORNIA

Red Ball are juicy and full-flavored-selected from the groves of more than 10,500 California growers. Ask for them in tissue wrappers bearing the name "Red Ball."

WOMAN'S WIRELESS.

The Atlanta Constitution inaugurates today what it believes to be the first Radio Woman's Department in the United States. It is intended to make this department a medium through which all matters of interest to women may be talked about, and in this way give further proof of the value of the radio in restoring the home circle to the home.

Since the war an unrest has eemed to so possess the people of America that the home, which has heretofore been the center of the average citizen's universe, seemed about to become merely a place where we sleep, and at that did none too much sleeping, either.

Modern life has taken "main street" far from the idea which Home formerly embodied. Outside amusements, diversions and pleasures have called loud and successfully like the Pied Piper's flute, in a melody to which main street has responded gleefully and in ever increasing numbers.

The home has gone out to seek the world. Now, the radio seems about to bring the world back to the home.

It is a wonderful moment in the history of mankind when a whisper scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than heard around the world. It is a wonderful thing to take part in this moment and to spread the usefulness of this instrument of modern invention.

It is fitting, too, that this, Mother and Daughter week, should be chosen as the proper time for inaugurating regular talks on matters of paramount interest to women.

This is woman's day. True to its tradition The Constitution is happy to be the first newsment for women.

All Are Invited.

Invitations to the Mother's day theater party were printed in The Constitution Sunday. They went intended of "the four hundred" and into homes of "the four million." The invitation was accepted by 1,700 of those invited in the spirit in which it was tendered, as a special mark of appreciation from a great city, through The Constitution to its most loved and revered citizens.

In the program no special effort was made to feature "motherhood" or to play especially on the sentiment around it. The Constitution's plan was to "show the mothers a good time" and to give them a couple of hours of pleasant amusement.

It was an excitingly romantic picture that was unreeled for the unusual audience beginning at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Conway Tearle went through some nerve-racking situations in order to win the honors that were justly his and to prove his faithfulness to his wife, despite the wicked machinations of his rival, Cyril Chadwick, and the innocent indiscretions of Betty Compkon.

The Mother's day party fulfilled its mission in affording the recreation The Constitution hoped to provide for its guests.

The residents of the Old Ladies' home, whose opportunities for pleasure are limited, were brought in word and the states were rapidly conforcing their securities and corporation laws in such manner as to bar the vast majority of shady program as countered that the states were rapidly enforcing their securities and corporation laws in such manner as to bar the vast majority of shady program as countered that the states were rapidly enforcing their securities and corporation laws in such manner as to bar the vast majority of shady proportions. The residents of the Old Ladies' home, whose opportunities for pleasing are limited, were brought in motors provided by courtesy of the Yellow Cab company. Their wrinkled faces and nice but simple dress offered striking contrast to the handsomely gowned and youthful matrons from fashionable homes who were driven to the theater in their own cars by their own chauffeurs.

The true brought in the forcing their securities and corporation laws in such manner as to be used the vast majority of shady promotions. He urged still greater vigilance on the part of the blue-sky officials of the various southern states and declared that the greater the safe guards thrown around the public, to shield it from fraudulent or doubtful stock and bond issues, the greater was the benefit to the legitimate proposition.

Their De-licious Flavor

You'll admit there is a difference in the flavor of grapes—and that's why NuGRAPE is different from its many imitators.

In a certain valley, made rich and productive by reason of the moisture, in season, from surrounding hills—a famous brand of grapes are raised. The vineyards are renowned for the rich, wine-like flavor of the great purple clusters of fruit. And it has been OUR obligation to YOU, to transport that perfumed delicacy of flavor-to your home-to places where soft drinks are vended.

> BUT MAKE SURE IT'S REALLY NuGRAPE you're getting when you call for it. There are many imitations—on the market. Every successful product has them. Keep a sharp eye on the bottle—its three rings and the star are sure identification marks.

Sausage When it Is Cool. ered apron tunic. There is a white organdie collar.

The prediction that white linens and cottons boldly printed in green, and white hats embroidered or otherwise trimmed in green, will be ex-tremely smart for day-time wear is worth taking seriously. The essen-tial thing is to keep the contrast clear and distinct and to avoid the intricate and cofused patterns that detract from the essential crispness of the color.

Green taffeta is cleverly used in the frock shown in the picture—a frock with an amusing little apron tunic that sags downward in front, and a white organdie collar built on the lines that we call Second Empire.

The HOUSEHOLD Edited by Anne Rittenhouse

Sausages are not good eating for ho Sausages are not good eating for ho Sausages are not good eating for hot weather, but they are good now and again when the day is cool and chilly. Here are some unusual and interest-ing ways of serving them: Potatoes Stuffed With Sausages

For six persons you will need six large potatoes and about a half-pound sausage meat. Pare the 1 tatoes and cut off tops to make covers and then scoop out the centers of the potatoes. scoop out the centers of the potatoes. Fill the centers with sausage meat and put the potato covers on again, fastening down with toothpicks, or sharpened match ends. Place in a dripping pan and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add a little hot water and bake a little over an hour, basting from time to time.

So man and a girl who were standing very close together, staring at each low. rod and silver birch, and made a silvery close together, staring at each other with an air of dumb misery that yet displayed a flame behind it the flame of intense mutual attraction—that vital flame that only lovers know!

"I had to come Marcella," said the young man in a sort of broken whisper. "I ran into Lady Warrington this afternoon in New York, and she sprang it on me that you and Treman were—were getting married—tomorrow! Say it isn't true!"

She gazed up at him with piteous eyes.

"Marcella! Sweetheart! I'm waiting for an answer!"

Dumbly she nodded. Her dry lips could not utter what she knew she ought to say.

It was very silent in the little wood, for at half-mast ten at night, birds for at half-past ten at night, birds and beasts were sleeping. But, suddenly, in the undergrowth a twig snapped, and Miles raised his head from its resting place on top of Marcella's fluffy hair, and looked sharply in the direction whence the sound had come.

She shivered a little, none the less, and moved closer to Miles. "He wanted to see my father. Daddy's ill, you know. He—he doesn't know—about tomorrow. He's told me not to marry Warwick. Says he'd a thousand times face the music, than have me made unhappy—"

His voice broke, cutting short the miscrable attempt at jocularity.

That little break cast down the girl's reserves. Miles could be utterly relied upon. He loved her, very truly. She loved him. Even at the eleventh hour, he might think of some solution to this desperate position.

Let Us Start Your New Sweater

You will find it quite fascinating work - especially with such beautiful new materials with which to work.

"Twinkle Yarn" is a new, very soft wool yarn, with a glint of silk in it and comes in the most exquisite colors. A sweater made by one's own hands in just the color wanted will be a thing of real delight.

"Magicfloss" is another new yarn of light weight for making sweaters in beautiful Paisley and Persian effects.

"Marabou" yarn is a very new idea for trimmingmakes collars, cuffs and such things with the effect of a soft, fine fur.

Then, of course, we have complete color lines of the Shetland and Germantown wools.

We Start Your Sweater

For everyone who buys yarn to make a sweater-on Tuesday only-an expert will give instructions and "put it on the needles" for you. We may not be able to start them all on Tuesday, but if you buy your yarn that day, it will entitle you to the necessary instruction and the actual start of the work.

"What's the motter with tonight?" Hugo inquired. "It won't take me 10 minutes to pack a bag."

There was a short, excited confab. Wasn't he too tired? It was a long pull up Monte Nero.

No. Hugo wasn't a bit tired. He danced around excitedly and begged to be allowed to go tonight. They the handle of the guitar and Gaunt had playfully decorated the musician's ear with a red rose. "I think he's enjoyed himself today," Gaunt said, as Jean and he sat down side by side on the edge of the steep terrace.

Jean nodded, her throat uncomfortably, full. "You've been so good to him, Hector. So kind and good to all of us. It's no use my trying to thank you. I simply don't know how to begin."

Gaunt inclosed the hand which lay nearest him in his big fist, tenderly, gently. Something stirred and fluttered in her heart. O, dear heaven!
So long ago it was they had met and loved each other—like a dim dream, loved each other-like a dim dream, lap, stroking it with soft and tender gestures. Dear Alice—dear, sweet, little daughter! They seemed safely to have passed a terrible crisis, bridged a yawning horror.

The next day, and the next, and for many days thereafter, the Villa Modesta was a hive of feminine industry. Occasionally Gaunt looked in on his way to or from the market to leave things for them to eat, and to "How little I've counted in your life, my poor dear—I, who expected to be so much," he said quietly. "You be so much, he said quietly. "You don't know what it means to me to have you here—you, and the little girl, Jean—I'm coming to the wedding. I'm—I'm going to give her away at the church ceremony. ANSWER: They are for identification only. It is easier for you to use these little numbers than to use any other means to identify the Slogans and Trade-Marks to which you refer in naming the products they represent and the manufacturers of these products. They should be numbered from one to seventy-three onsecutively, as there are seventy-three

As it happened the coolie did not pull the trigger of the gun. A dart of flame, a crack which echoed loudly in the narrow room—and Gray, over the sights of the automatic which he had recovered and fired in one motion saw the man stagger.

Through the swirling smoke he saw the coolie drop the gun and run to the window.

"Ask the soldier what is the of fense," he persisted, exhibiting a coin at which the Chinaman stared eargerly.

Mirai Khan, Gray was informed, had been convicted of stealing a horse worth thirteen taels. The Kirghiz had claimed that the horse was his own, taken from him by the Liangchowfu official who happened to be in need of beasts of burden. The case had been referred to the authorities at Honanfu, and no less a per-

They had not seen a white man during the journey. Gray had uritten to Van Schaick before they left Honolulu, but they expected no mail until they should return to Shanghai.

"We were fools to come this far." muttered Delabar. "Did you notice the crowds in the streets we passed?"

"It's a feast, of bazaar day, I expect," observed Gray quietly, removing his mud-caked shoes and stretching his big frame on the clay bench that did duty as a bed.

When Delabar had departed on his mission, Gray left the inn leisurely. He wandered after the scientist, glancing curiously at a crowd which had gathered in what was evidently the center square of the town, being surrounded by an array of booths.

The crowd was too great for him to see what the thaction was, but he elbowed his through without ceremony. Eare that something unusual must be in progress, he was surprised to see only a nondescript. In exactly a month after leaving Honanfu, as Gray had promised, the wagons bearing the two Americans passed through the town gate.

Gray, dusty and travel stained to his waist, but alert and erect of carriage, walked before the two carts. He showed no ill effects from the hard stage of the journey they had just completed.

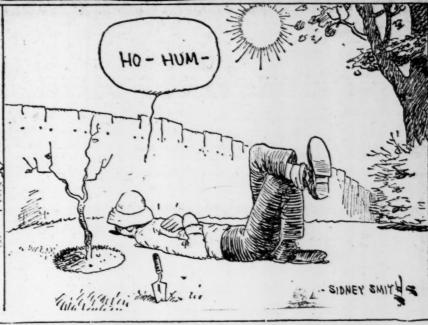

Delabar lay behind the leather curtain of one of the wagons. His spirits had suffered from the past month. The monotonous road, with its ceaseless mud villages had distressed him. The groups of natives squarting in the sun before their huts, in the never ending search for vermin, and the throngs of staring children that sought for the horse dung in the roads to use for fuel, had wrought on his sensitive nerves.

Handsome Trophy Awarded For Winner of the Big Fight

Belt Is Being Made Now - Will Remain in Fighter's Hands as Long as He Retains the Southern Title.

WILL WORKOUT.

Young Stribling, who will fight Al Nelson on the all-star card Thursday night, will workout this afternoon at 5 o'clock at Spiller's new athletic arena. Stribling will arrive in the city at 4 o'clock from Shreveport, where he was to fight George Kuhn last night. The fight was postponed after Kuhn disappeared Saturday night and the suthorities have been unand the authorities have been unable to locate him. The public is cordially invited to attend the workout and watch the youngster

Skeptics who doubt the importance of the Young Stribling-Al Nelson bout Thursday night at Spiller Bowl are in to receive a rude shock.

For announcement was made Monday night by the 108th cavalry, Lieutenant H. J. Gewinner, promoter, that the NuGrape Company of Atlanta will offer a belt, emblematic of the southern middleweight championship, to the winner of this battle.

The helt is now being made at a second control of the southern middleweight championship, to the winner of this battle.

til he is defeated, provided that he defends his honor once every three defends his honor once every three months.

This is bound to give the fighters added incentive, and will increase interest in the middleweight fighting division all over the south. It is to be a handsome belt, lavishly made, and a prize worthy of the honor that goes with it.

Jake Jacobs and A. E. Kelly are the men who are sponsoring the Nu-Grape offering.

the men who are sponsoring the Nu-Grape offering.

There can be little doubt of the supremacy of Young Stribling over the southern middleweight division. Al Nelson stands out as the only man in this section of real calibre who has never fought Stribling.

Interest is rapidly reaching whiteheat over their struggle for the title and the helt. and the belt.

Referee Question Undecided.

The fact that Billy Lotz, manager of Nelson, and "Pa" Stribling are deadlocked over the referee question, each holding out for his own choice proves beyond all doubt that it is a grudge affair, and that the two boys will be banging away for everything they're worth the entire the southern middleweight championship, to the winner of this battle.

The belt is now being made, at a cost of $500, and it is expected that it well be ready for presentation to the victor after the decision is rendered in the ring.

It is to be a diamond studded affair, two inches wide with a solid gold buckle three inches in heighth and four inches wide.

The difference in strength would seem to lie largely in the comparison of the two pitching staffs. Tech has four pitchers who can perform with equal zeal and efficiency. Two are right-handers, two left-handers.

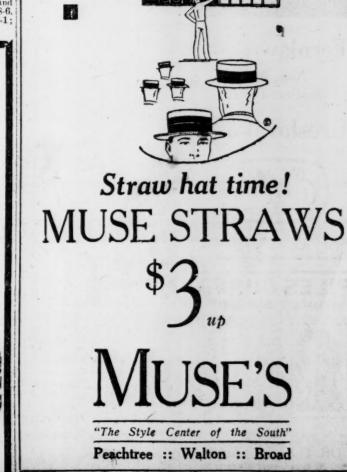

Morris is the mainstay of the Petrel clan, being assisted at intervals by Wallace and Willis. A three day series almost requires a fresh pitcher each day. Tech could answer that demand and have two pitchers in reserve. Oglethorpe will have a hard time pitching a new man each day.

Commander C. G. Mayo, Captain H. Bert Knowles and Boyd C. Berry, all of the federal traffic board of the budget bureau, will address federal traffic officials of Atlanta at 10 o'clock this morning in room 324, federal building Federal control for the federal control of the second contr

Oglethorpe, too, has a team of great potential strength. They spring forth at the most unexpected times and play ball such as you never beheld before. Then agaiz, they do ance will probably be raised within the very near future. Hundreds of persons will find employment in the mill, and the building of forty or fifty cottages for the employes will be necessary.

The Jolly Cotton company, with a capital stock of $50,000, has just been organized here. This new corporation will engage in a general cotton and warehouse business, and this, with two cotton mills buying cotton the year round, will make Summerville one of the best and largest cotton markets in northwest Georgia.

During the past year Chattooga county's link in the Georgia-Alabama highway, by way of Menlo and Cloudland to the state line on Lookout mountain, was completed, and although the road on the Alabama side of the mountain was in bad condition, hundreds of bales of cotton were hauled to the markets at Summerville, Trion, and Berryton, from Fort Payne, Valley Head and other parts of DeKalb county.

Network of Roads.

Besides the two official highways mentioned, Summerville is connected with every part of Chattooga county, Georgia, and Cherokee county, Alabama, by splendid roads, which have been built during the past five years by the county's chaingang, under supervision of Warden T. A. Mashburn. Chattooga county has the best road-building material to be found in Georgia. Chattooga county white chert is shipped to almost every part of the state, being extensively used by the railroads in cherting the yards at the different stations. Much f this chert is shipped from a point only a short distance from the corporate limits of Summerville.

This county, also, is rapidly becoming one of the temportant poultry centers of the state, several carloads of chickens having been shipped from large and from Lyrely within the past

'Victory Week' Drive Planned By Peanut Men

Extension of Peanut Growers' Work Is Begun in Middle Georgia.

Albany, Ga., May 14.—(Special.)
With a minimum requirement of 50 per cent of the 1922 acreage in 25 southwest Georgia counties that led the state in peanut acreage last year, and July 1 the limit for signing that minimum, the Georgia Peanut Growers' Co-operative association Monday had 37 1.2 per cent of the total acreage under contract and was preparing to complete the remainder in paring to complete the remainder in paring to complete the remainder in these paring to complete the remainder in two weeks. tion Monday had about 45,000 acres under contract.

During the last nine working days the co-operative has signed 18,000 acres, or at the rate of 2,000 acres a day. If that rate of progress is maintained, the association will be ready for permanent organization in less than two weeks.

Plans are being made for a "Victory week" campaign from May 22 to May 29, to put over the individual quotas of all counties that have not yet reached the 50 per cent mark. Between now and "Victory week," concentrated efforts will be made by the field service in the big producing centers like Mitchell. Early, Baker, Clay, Crisp, Worth, Terrell, Randolph and Miller counties, some of which have been lagging.

So certain are the officials of the temporary organization that the peanut essociation will be permanently organized in a few more weeks, that extension of the work to middle Georgia was started today when John H. Mock, organization manager, left for a visit to Laurens, Wilkinson, Baldwin, Hancock, Greene, Morgan, Walton, Putnam and Jasper counties. Temporary organization will be perfected in these counties promptly and signup work will start there about June 1. Several other counties in this section of the state probably will be admitted to the association as soon as permanent organization is secured.

Strong Roads Will Fight Rail Merger, Says Barnum

Heads Will Object to Being Linked With Weaker Lines—Will Plead to Be Left Alone.

By R. L. Barnum.

New York, May 14.—Despite a further decline in the selling price of copper to 15 1-4 cents, further reductions in a number of grades of crude oil, further talk of a slowing in general trade, substantial recovery occurred in the stock market on short covering. A rally was due. April 10 cents in crude oil started on rumors that the company might find it wise to reduce dividends and use the money for storing oil. From 48 1-8 there was a decline to 35 3-4. The price is now two points above the low. The present dividend rate is $3 a year. The feeling today is that the usual dividend will be paid.

William A. Harriman, aledest son of E. H. Harriman, has enough stock of Pittsburg & West Virginia to control the property. Wall street rumors said today, and he is trying to dispose of it to the Van Swearingers who recently merged Clover Leaf and Nickel Plate and then acquire the control of Chesapeak & Ohio. Pittsburg & West Virginia is not really a railroad. It is a Pittsburg district terminal.

While most of the strong eastern railroads are expected to fight proposed mergers with weaker lines, it would not be surprising if Lackawan

Can I get a 7% Investment That is Safe?

The high standard we have set for Adair Protected Bonds and the rigid requirements of Adair Protection which only 5% of the loans we are asked to finance are able to meet, are responsible for our record of 57 Years of Proven Safety-57 Years in which no investor has ever lost a dollar through a first mortgage investment recommended by this firm.

Our recently issued booklet, "57 Years of Proven Safety", explains how Adair Protected Bonds are created and how the highest degree of safety is attained through the many exclusive safeguards we have evolved during our fifty-seven years in this field. We will gladly send a copy of this booklet to those interested in securing a 7 % investment that is safe.

The advances in new crop positions were not so violent, but October sold up to 23.04, or 59 points net higher and the close was within a point or two of the best, with the market very steady at net advances of 54 to 97

The market opened firm at an advance of 16 to 31 points, with old crop positions soon showing net gains of 54 to 60 points, and the new crop of 30 t 38 points on relatively firm cables, private reports of rains in the central belt, covering and trade buying. This bulge met considerable realizing or a renewal of scattering liquidation, but offerings was absorbed on comparative moderate reactions and the market firmed up again during the afternoon on more numerous reports of an increasing spot demand, the heavy rains shown by the detailed weather reports, the outlook for continued wet weather in the south tomorrow, and talk of a better tone in the stock market.

The buying was comparatively quiet in the morning but became more active and general on the advance which extended to 26.24 for May, or 88 to 98 points higher on the old crop months. December soid up to 22.68 or 58 points as compared with the low prices of Saturday morning. The detailed weather reports showed rainfall ranging from 1 to 3 inches generally over Oklahoma and there were really over Oklahom vance of 16 to 31 points, with old crop in a foul condition as usual and abandon-fall ranging from 1 to 3 inches generally over Oklahoma and there were also heavy rains in the central helt. The census report showing 575,396 bales consumed by domestic mills for the month of April, compared with 623,105 for March and 443,509 for April, last year, was fully up to bullish expectations, but the factors most generally mentioned on the advance were the rain reports and the talk of a better spot demand. Exports today were 1.407 bales, making 4,326,586 so far his season, against 4.969.

AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, May 14.—Prices were higher from the opening in the cotton market today and highest levels came in the late trading when the active positions were 63 to 108 points up, July rising to 25.18 cents a pound and October to 22.48. July was the strongest month at all stages of the session and closed at 25.14. October while rains and low temperatures in the belt had much to do with the day's rapid advance in prices another factor was the report, widely circulated among brokerage houses, that the long end of July was in the hands of large spot interests, who would demand delivery of cotton of their contracts. This caused all the more discussion because the total certificated stock here was officially counted at only 4,807 bales, while amounts mentioned as heing the extent of the long interest in July were many times that figure. While it was admitted that there was plenty of time in which to certificate cotton, spot people claimed that they were getting.

Twoidentical factories, erected at different times, necessarily represent different values at the time of building. And present-day values may represent more, or less, than the original cost.

Taking the one item of labor and labor efficiency, a dollar bought less of this commodity in 1920, when wages were highest and efficiency was lowest, than at any time in the last ten years. The above chart shows the relative fluctuations of labor costs and labor efficiency during the ten-year period, plotted on the basis of 100 per cent for 1913.

It is the function of an American Appraisal to analyze the various factors of value, and from this analysis to determine the actual and provable value of any property at any time.

We will be pleased to mail a copy of the American Appraisal Com-modity Chart, showing average fluctuations in prices of basic elements of property values, to any-

While rains and low temperatures in the belt had much to do with the day's rapid advance in prices another factor was the report, widely circulated among brokerage houses, that the long end of July was in the hands of large spot interests who would demand delivery of cotton on their contracts. This caused all the more discussion because the total certificated stock here was officially counted at only 4,807 bales, while amounts mentioned as being the extent of the long interest in July were many times that figure. While it was admitted that there was plenty of time in which to certificate cotton, spot people claimed that they were getting.

LABOR

Twoidentical factories, erected at different times, necessarily represent different values at the time of building. And present-day values may represent more, or less, than the original cost.

Taking the one item of labor and labor efficiency, a dollar bought less of this commodity in 1920, when wages were highest and effi-ciency was lowest, than at any time in the last ten years. The above chart shows the relative fluctuations of labor costs and labor efficiency during the ten-year period, plotted on the basis of 100 per cent for 1913.

It is the function of an American Appraisal to analyze the various factors of value, and from this analysis to determine the actual and provable value of any property at any time.

We will be pleased to mail a copy of the American Appraisal Commodity Chart, showing average fluctuations in prices of basic ele ments of property values, to any-one interested.

New York, May 14.—Failure of the bear operators at the opening today to bring about any extensive forced liquidation as a result of Saturday's sharp decline in stock prices brought about rather heavy short covering which was partly concealed for a time by the weakness of a few special is sues, particularly among the chemical shares. The hesitancy of traders in extending their commitments wore off around noon however, and prices rallied sharply with the closing quotations around the highest of the day. The recovery was most effective in the steels, motors and equipments, but some unusually good buying was noted in the old line rails in the last hour.

"Souls for Sale." (At the Metropolitan.)

"Souls for Sale," the Goldwyn-Rupert Hughes film now on view at the Metropolitan theater, proves beyond all question that Author-Director Hughes is daily growing in screen knowledge and technical finesse. It he wishes to pursue his directorial career there is no reason why he should have to take the dust of anyone in the business; for he shows the signs of the trail-blazer. Also he knows how to tell a story in the film language and still keep its characters ordinary human beings and its events such as our reason permits us to accept as truthful transcripts of real life. "Souls for Sale" is such a film—fine in understanding, real in its applications, vividly dramatic and spectacular where the spectacular adds to the intrinsic worth of the film.

BACKS AIR SERVICE

Pleads for "Three-Plane Planes.

"Airplane service for commercial transportation and defense is not a dream or an experiment; it is a re-ality," Rear Admiral W. F. Fullam, 17. S. N., retired, told members of the local chapter of the National Aero-nautic association at an illustrated lecture Monday evening at the chamber of commerce "The airplane will prove a rodsend to every man and save the people of this city hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. If the citizens of Atlanfa want air service," he de-tisred, "they will get it, but it is first necessary to establish a landing or the air service will be granted cities having landings and Atlanta will be left out entirely.

Business to Benefit.

"If business men of Atlanta will calculate the benefit in cash of getting air service to this city for the ting air service to this city for the nani alone, they will find that it will pay for any expense they might go to in order to get it," he said. "Here's to in order to get it." he said. "Here's Atlanta, the largest city of the empire state of the south, and the head-quarters for the fourth corps area, but an airplane can't come here, for there is no place to land."
